Eureka, Calif. Hit By Severe Quake

One Death, No Serious Injuries Reported

EUREKA, Calif. (AP)—A shuddering earthquake just before noon Tuesday did untold damage in this northern California coastal city and caused one freak death by drowning.

Carl Wilkerson, 42, drowned when the sudden shock at 11:55 a.m. threw him into a lumber mill pond beside which he was eating lunch.

A score of other persons suffered minor injuries from falling debris or glass.

Nearly every building and home in this city of 25,000 was damaged, most superficially, but adding up to a tremendous property loss.

There were five small fires, four caused by shorted electric wiring. All were extinguished quickly.

The rolling shock was felt as far away as Berkeley, 225 air miles to the south and in a wide area of southern Oregon and northern California.

It was the second heaviest but most damaging of a series of earthquakes in the Far West in recent days.

In Eureka chimneys collapsed, windows shattered and stocks in stores were hurled down in costly disarray.

Electric power failed and some gas service was interrupted, but there were no reports of fires.

In the Eureka Humboldt Times and Humboldt Standard offices, typesetting machines were shaken loose and molten metal burned at least 20 printers slightly. There were about 20 minor injuries throughout town, mostly from glass. A check of all hospitals, however, showed no one hurt badly enough to require hospitalization.

A crack was reported across U. S. Highway 101, the Redwood Highway between Eureka and Arcata.

De Gaulle Backer Raps Paris Pact, Asks Soviet Talks

PARIS (AP)—A staunch supporter of Gen. Charles de Gaulle Tuesday criticized the Paris agreement for West German rearmament and asked the government not to put it into effect until new talks have been held with Soviet Russia.

Jacques Soustelle, considered the parliamentary spokesman for De Gaulle, also suggested France's recently concluded accord with West Germany on the Saar leaves room for disagreement that should be removed before the Germans are empowered to take up arms again.

Soustelle spoke in the four-day debate which opened Monday in the National Assembly on ratification of the series of international accords to make a rearmament West Germany partner in Western defense.

Sentence Beauteous German Spy To Five Years In Prison

BERLIN (AP)—A U. S. High Commission Court sentenced a 24-year-old German brunette beauty Tuesday to five years in prison for betraying to the Russians military secrets she wangled from her two American lovers, both U. S. intelligence officials.

Irmgard Margarethe Schmidt had pleaded guilty, but sobbed at the sentence.

"I can't take it," she said. "It's too much."

High Commission Judge Ambrose Fuller of Chicago ignored her tears and rejected a recommendation by U. S. prosecutor Thomas K. Lencian for a three-year term.

"If these cases are serious enough to be tried, they are serious enough to be punished," the judge said.

Miss Schmidt, still weeping, was led away to begin her sentence. Described before the court as one of the most dangerous spies encountered here since World War II, she was wearing a form-fitting American blue suit and nylon stockings and her dark hair was neatly coiffured.

370 Traffic Deaths Forecast For U.S. During Christmas

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council said Tuesday that 370 persons are likely to be killed in traffic accidents throughout the nation during the Christmas week-end.

The council's estimate is for immediate traffic deaths only, during the period from 6 p.m. (local time) Friday to midnight Sunday. Ned H. Dearborn, president of the safety council, said that widespread safety-consciousness could cut the actual toll far below the 370 estimate which is based upon many experience factors.

"S-D Day a week ago," he said, "proved that just a little more concerted effort by motorists and pedestrians can make a real dent in the traffic toll."

Pope Pius XII Unable To Receive Vatican Diplomats

VATICAN CITY (AP)—For the first time in the almost 16 years of his pontificate ailing Pope Pius XII will be unable this year to receive Vatican diplomats during the Christmas holidays.

The Vatican announced Tuesday that instead two ranking diplomats would present written greetings from the diplomatic corps on Friday. Ambassador Vladimir d'Ormesson of France and Casimir Papee of the Polish government in exile will present the greetings to Msgr. Angelo Dell'Acqua, Vatican substitute secretary of state, to be handed to the Pope.

Every year since he became pontiff on March 2, 1939, Pius has given audiences to members of the diplomatic corps between Christmas and New Year's Day.

Because of his illness the Pope will not deliver his full Christmas message this year. The message, now being written by the Pope, will be published in the Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano.

The Pope's radio talk will be confined to a Christmas greeting and blessing at noon on Christmas eve.

On Christmas day, also at noon, he is scheduled to appear at the window of his study overlooking St. Peter's Square and give his blessing to the throng below.

The Vatican press office said today the pontiff's "slow, gradual improvement continues" and for the fourth consecutive day he took a brief automobile ride and walk in the Vatican garden.

White Christmas Is Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Many millions of Americans will wake up to a white Christmas this year, the Weather Bureau said Tuesday.

In a special Christmas bulletin, the Weather Bureau forecast a white Christmas for most of the heavily populated northeastern quarter of the country as well as the Rocky Mountain area, the central plateau, the Sierra and the Cascade country.

As for the northeastern section: "The snow cover should extend from eastern North Dakota and western Illinois eastward except for the coastal plains from New Jersey southward through Virginia where snow cover is expected to be light and spotty."

Mitchell Warns Of Heavy Joblessness Unless Older Workers Are Kept On Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said Tuesday that half the nation's adult population may be jobless 20 years from now unless prejudices about hiring older workers are quickly overcome.

Mitchell said the number of persons 45 years old and over is steadily increasing and it is estimated that by 1975 they will increase nearly 40 per cent to constitute half the adult population.

"Unless something is done to give them job opportunities, an estimated half of our adult population will be condemned to a life of economic uselessness," he said.

The labor secretary made his estimates in a summary issued after a year-long Labor Department study.

He said employers and labor unions too often set up arbitrary barriers against hiring older workers without due regard for their skills and maturity.

"If our economy is to continue its high rate of production and not suffer the pang of mass unemployment," he said, "our older workers must be given equal status in the competitive job market."

"If we are to maintain a skilled work force for the defense of the nation, our older workers must be allowed to keep their skills up-to-date and not grow rusty from inactivity."

Find Sheppard Guilty, Gets Life Imprisonment

Mississippi Gives Legislature Right To Abolish Schools

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi voters apparently gave a more than two to one stamp of approval Tuesday to a constitutional amendment designed to continue school segregation.

Returns from 1,067 of 1,825 precincts gave 74,572 votes for the amendment and 30,236 against.

The precincts counted were from all areas of the state and included both city and rural areas.

The amendment, similar to those approved already by Georgia and South Carolina, gives the legislature standby authority to abolish the public school system and subsidize private schools to continue separate Negro and white school systems.

It was designed to bypass the U. S. Supreme Court ruling banning segregation in public schools.

Voter interest in Mississippi was light over most of the state except where the few local elections sparked the voting.

Christmas shopping apparently occupied the citizens' minds instead of the amendment affecting the state's educational future, despite the hot and heavy arguments between sponsors and opponents of the amendment.

Clark To Confer With McCarthy On Reds In CIA

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Mark W. Clark plans to meet with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) early next month to learn what evidence McCarthy may have that Communists have slipped into the Central Intelligence Agency.

Clark, retired four-star general and president of the Citadel Military College in Charleston, S.C., heads a six-man team assigned to investigate the government's far-flung intelligence network. He is reported authoritatively ready to accept any aid which McCarthy, or others, might be able to provide.

McCarthy offered last July—but has not yet turned over—information to Clark to support his charges that the CIA, the government's master intelligence headquarters, has been penetrated by Communists.

Allen Dulles, CIA chief, has denounced McCarthy's accusations as false. Last summer he invited McCarthy to turn over any information on possible subversives in his agency but said he received no answer.

Informants who told of Clark's plans Tuesday stressed he plans to confer not only with McCarthy but with others who have volunteered to help the project. Clark's group, it was said, has been showered with offers of assistance from numerous persons, both in and out of government.

JAMES HILTON

'Mr. Chips' Creator, James Hilton, Dies

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—James Hilton, the quiet, shy creator of "Mr. Chips" and the heaven-on-earth known as Shangri-la, is dead at the age of 54.

The British-born author died late Monday night of liver cancer which hospitalized him a month ago. He was working on another novel which he hoped would take its place with his best sellers, "Goodbye, Mr. Chips," "Lost Horizon," and "Random Harvest."

For the last 10 years he lived in a beachfront home, devoting most of his time to writing and gardening.

At his bedside were his former wife, Alice Brown Hilton, and his secretary, Mrs. Adele Varrick. He and the first Mrs. Hilton were divorced in 1937. He married actress Galina Kopineck the same year. The second marriage ended in divorce in 1945.

Britain Dismisses Russian Threat To Scrap Treaty

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill's government Tuesday curtly dismissed Russia's threat to scrap the 1942 Anglo-Soviet treaty of mutual assistance if Britain ratifies the Paris agreements rearmament Western Germany.

The Foreign Office, responding less than 12 hours after receiving the Russian note, issued a statement declaring:

"Her majesty's government will continue to pursue their chosen policy of consolidating Western European unity."

British officials said the Kremlin's threat could only have the effect of speeding up the final effective ratification of the Paris accords which already have won British parliamentary approval.

Venice is slowly but noticeably settling into the waves of the Adriatic Sea from which she rose 1,500 years ago.

Will Be Eligible For Parole In 10 Years

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Samuel Sheppard, a stunned disbeliever stamped starkly across his handsome boyish face, heard himself convicted Tuesday of second-degree murder. It took him just five days to reach a verdict.

He was sentenced immediately to life imprisonment for the July 4 murder of Marilyn Sheppard, his 31-year-old wife of nine years, who tried to hold his love against the allure of other women. The state had asked the death penalty.

Marilyn was four months pregnant with her second son when she was beaten to death in bed with a savagery that left her head all but shapeless from 35 blows. Dr. Sheppard blamed the murder on a prowling, bushy-haired stranger.

"I am not guilty," the 30-year-old osteopath insisted to the court and jury just before he was led out of the courtroom. Dr. Sheppard, with long expressive fingers that bespeak his once-thriving surgical practice, could have gotten the electric chair. Instead he will be eligible for parole in 10 years.

His defense lawyer said they will appeal the conviction and expressed confidence it could be upset. Meanwhile, they sought a new trial—a legal prelude to an appeal.

Common Pleas Judge Edward Blythin set a hearing for Dec. 30. A trial judge rarely, if ever, reverses his own conduct of a case by granting a new trial.

Dr. Sheppard took the verdict with an audible gasp, but without any of the tears he shed so often during the trial.

Just before he was led manacled from the courtroom to his cell two floors above, the six-foot osteopath twisted his head over his right shoulder for a last rueful look at the jury of seven men and five women.

From beginning to end Sheppard presented an appearance of complete disbeliever, of a man who just could not grasp that this was something that was happening to him.

As he stood before Judge Blythin, Dr. Sheppard responded to an invitation from the court by saying in a slightly trembling voice:

"I would like to say, sir, that I am not guilty and I feel there have been facts presented before this court that definitely have proven that I couldn't have performed this crime."

Dr. Sheppard's trial began Oct. 18 and was the longest and most spectacular in Cleveland's history. It ended its tenth week Monday and the verdict came on the 65th day.

The jury got the cast at 9:13 a.m., CST, last Friday. Actual deliberations ran 40 hours before a buzzer signal at 3:12 p.m. Tuesday notified the judge a verdict had been reached.

Although Judge Blythin placed no injunction on jurors from talking about the case, they refused any comment as police officers conducted them through a press line, shouting mob of reporters to taxicabs outside the courthouse. They were taken to a downtown hotel where they had spent the last four nights to pick up personal belongings.

There, speaking for all the jurors, Foreman James C. Bird told a news conference:

"We have agreed that we will make no comment. When we heard the request by Mr. Corrigan for a new trial, we realized that anything we might say would be used in that appeal, and so we have all agreed that is the extent of the statement we wish to make at this time."

WINTER ARRIVED AT 3:25 A.M. WEATHER MATCHES THE SEASON

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
With winter arriving officially Wednesday at 3:25 a.m., CST, the weather throughout the nation Tuesday generally matched the change in seasons.

An exception was the southern edge of the country, where it was warm.

A storm barged into the New England area, dumping 12 inches of snow on Cape Cod. It was expected to leave up to 16 inches in New Hampshire and western Maine and 6 to 8 inches in southeastern New England.

Light snow or freezing drizzle peppered the Mississippi Valley from Quincy, Ill., northward to Duluth, Minn. Snow flurries scattered across the rest of the Great Lakes territory.

Temperatures early Tuesday dropped to as low as 2 below zero at Watertown; 3 above at Massena and 5 above at Binghamton, all in upstate New York. New York City recorded a low of 16.2 degrees.

MEANEST THIEF

CHICAGO (AP)—The meanest thief competition hit the absolute bottom Tuesday. Two of them took 43.616 dollars from the Germ Proof Diaper Service Inc.

Judge Gives Dale 15 Years Prison, $10,000 Fine

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—Eval R. Dale, AFL leader convicted of racketeering, was sentenced Tuesday to 15 years in prison by a federal judge who denounced him as a bully and a menace.

The 38-year-old Dale, boss of 38,000 members of the AFL Common Laborers Union in southern Illinois, also was fined $10,000.

U. S. District Judge Fred L. Wham denied a request for bond pending appeal of the case, saying he wanted Dale cut off from all power at once.

Dale reddened and wiped perspiration off his face but otherwise showed little emotion as Judge Wham described him as "a menace to the union labor movement, to the state and to the men you represented."

James Bateman, business agent of a Murphysboro AFL Pipefitters local and a co-defendant with Dale, escaped a prison sentence. He was fined $2,000 and put on probation for five years. A condition of probation was that he hold no union office during the period.

Dale and Bateman, 63, were convicted by a federal court jury two weeks ago of trying to extort $1,000,000 from the builders of a Joplin, Ill., power generating plant. Dale also was convicted of extorting $7,500 from a subcontractor on the 100-million-dollar project.

Fire Committeemen Backing Opponent Of Mayor Kennelly

CHICAGO (AP)—Five Democratic ward committeemen were fired from their city hall jobs Tuesday after endorsing an opponent of Mayor Martin H. Kennelly in the Feb. 22 mayoral primary.

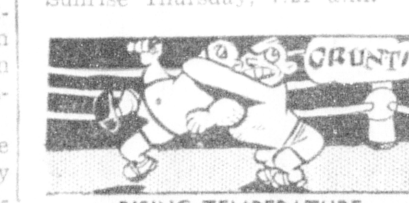

Those who lost their jobs abruptly were members of the Chicago Democratic Committee which voted 47-1 Monday to back Richard J. Daley, Cook County clerk and chairman of the County Democratic Committee.

Aides of the mayor said some 3,750 city employees with temporary status will be expected to campaign actively for Kennelly. "We expect they'll volunteer," he added.

Editorial Comment

GIVE IT A CHANCE

The launching of the Forrestal, the Navy's great new super-carrier, recalls the bitter public and private debate a few years back on the strategic worth of aircraft carriers in a future war of atom bombs.

Inter-service jealousies put a sharp edge on this controversy. First the plan for a great carrier was called off, then it was reinstated and construction begun. Now the first such ship is in the water, with its completion perhaps a year off.

This does not mean the dispute has ended. It rages on, with advocates of overwhelming land-based air power still arguing that carriers will have little value in another war, especially since the development of more advanced nuclear weapons.

When the military and naval experts disagree on a matter requiring such special knowledge, it is not for the laymen on the sidelines to say what is wise.

What seems plain now, however, is that the super-carrier is at least going to have an opportunity to prove itself experimentally. Its use in peacetime maneuvers may or may not indicate too clearly its final value in all-out war, but perhaps it was inevitable that the case for the giant ship be taken this far.

RED 'RECOUNT'

Vote recounts in this country are an old story. Sometimes they're ordered because somebody suspects something fishy. Sometimes it's just that the outcome is so close the candidates figure a recheck might eliminate a lot of unintentional errors. Enough, anyway, to change the result.

In the Communist world, the recount was a practice almost unheard of until Poland bobbed up with an order for one of the other day. Who needs a recount when there's only one slate of candidates?

The Polish Reds decided they did. They don't think some of their villagers showed enough enthusiasm for the cut-and-dried Communist ticket put up recently.

So they've told townfolk in 11 small communities to get back into the polling booths again and demonstrate a little more love for their Communist leaders. We have no doubt that the demonstration will be forthcoming.

Of course, the Reds could have got a better tally just by tampering with the figures. But probably they thought it would be much more fun to run the sheep through the dip again. A good lesson to those whose Communist spirit may be sagging a trifle.

BEHIND THE CAMOUFLAGE

How important the arming of West Germany is to the Western defenses in Europe can be gauged from the noise of threats emanating from the Soviet Union since the French and Germans began debating the Paris pacts.

Those agreements, of course, would bring West Germany into NATO and authorize the re-establishment of German armed forces. They would give NATO sufficient ground strength to diminish sharply the prospects for the success of any surprise land invasion by Russian armies.

The Kremlin thoroughly understands this. It is one of many reasons why the Russians have been offering the free world soft talk for the past year and a half. They have been trying to put the West to sleep.

The policy seemed to be paying off handsomely when EDC collapsed. But upon its crumbled structure rose the Paris agreements, with strong hopes that after some difficult hurdles are cleared, both France and Germany will ratify.

So now the Soviet leaders have dropped their sweet words and are shouting tough language. Foreign Minister Molotov says the march of communism will go on, and will never be stopped.

Furthermore, he warns that if the West Germans are armed then all hope of unifying East and West Germany is dead. And, of course, the Soviet Union has seemed to back up this threat by planning the "conversion" of the East German police force into a mechanized army.

The latest in the series of threats came when the Soviet government threatened to abrogate its 1944 friendship treaty with France if France ratifies the London-Paris agreements for rearming Western Germany.

All this is quite revealing as to the true nature of our "peace-loving" friends in Moscow. Even the Bevanites in England must be slightly taken aback. But the threats, like the soft talk that went before, contain large elements of phoniness.

Molotov implies that if the West Germans do not arm there is strong likelihood of German unity. The truth is that Russia's terms for unification are now and always have been almost totally unacceptable to the West. They would merely insure that Germany would be either a helpless neutral or another satellite of the Soviet Union.

Certainly the Paris pacts are founded on the assumption that a divided Germany will exist for some time. But that is not the West's fault. These agreements simply recognize a situation that was of Moscow's making, and is not likely to be undone while present world tensions continue.

As for the "conversion" of the East German police, the fact is that they are an army now. Russia might indeed decide to beef them up if the Paris agreements take effect, but that would represent no basic change.

The Bear has laid down the olive branch, which it always held rather clumsily, and is growling. To responsible free men who have never lost sight of his constant purpose of global conquest, his new aspect should prove neither surprising nor frightening. They could always see behind the camouflage.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—A stranger in a worn topcoat came up to me as I sat at my typewriter with a preoccupied air.

"Who you going to pick as Man Of The Year?" he asked. "I'm in a quandary," I said. "I'm torn between Pope Pius, President Eisenhower, Winston Churchill, Pierre Mendes-France, and Carl Sandburg."

"You're like all the other typewriter jockeys when they get around to picking the man of the year," he said. "You always play it safe and give the nod to somebody with a headline name."

I asked: "Who you got in mind, mister?"

"Well," he said defiantly. "And don't laugh." "Don't think I'm not important," he said. "I'm 45 years old. I got two kids in school. I got a wife. I also got a 3-year-old car that's paid for, and a house that isn't, but it will be. I got a television set, a refrigerator, a radio, a washing machine, and $7,500 worth of insurance, and I keep all that together on $72.50 a week."

"You know who I am?" he asked, exasperated. "I'm the guy you're always patting on the back in print and calling The Common Man, The Average American, and—oh, yes—The Little Fellow. Well, once in my life I want to be the big fellow."

"By golly, you are!" I told him, putting another sheet in the typewriter. "Everything you say is true, and if it makes you any happier, you're tops on my list, the real Man Of The Year."

He shook hands, started to leave, then turned back uncertainly.

"Anything wrong?" I asked.

"No," he said. "I was just thinking about the little lady. Anything good I done was all on account of her, and I wouldn't feel right getting this honor if—"

"How about us making her The Woman Of The Year?" I said.

Well, here it is in the newspaper, to Mr. and Mrs. Average American, Man and Woman Of The Year 1954, and twin bulwarks of a Free World in the terrible and wonderful 20th Century.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Let's have a talk with Tennessee Williams. The highly successful playwright has been lingering in Hollywood to oversee his latest film investigation of southern culture, "The Rose Tattoo." He watched on the set as Burt Lancaster, Anna Magnani and Maria Pavan shouted through a frantic scene. When it was over, he retired to a dressing room to chat.

Williams speaks quietly and articulately and wears a rather heavy mustache. He was dressed in what you might call a Howard Hughes outfit: a well-worn tweed sport coat, sand tan trousers and sneakers. He said he had seen three weeks of the filming in Key West and two weeks here making it the longest stretch he has experienced on a picture.

He said he had learned much and could direct one of his stories. "But you should. I when I have such able men as Elsa Kazan and Danny Mann," he said. The latter is directing "Tattoo."

This is his fourth screen play. He has an original which Kazan will make next summer at Warners. I asked him about the two others he did at Warners.

"I wasn't happy with 'The Glass Menagerie,'" he admitted. "After I left the project they made a lot of changes I didn't approve of. They were mostly concessions to popular tastes. But the mistake was that popular tastes have matured and are no longer what the studios think they are."

He said he objected to scenes showing Gertrude Lawrence at a ball in earlier years — "they were trying to get a Gone With The Wind effect."

On the other hand, he was pleased with "A Streetcar Named Desire," which won Vivien Leigh an Oscar.

They filmed it as I had eaten it, he remarked. We had to make one change because of censorship.

STUDENTS RESTORE HOME
LEXINGTON, Va. (AP)—Bruce McCord, a farmer here, thinks he is lucky that Washington and Lee University has a Mass in America, 1847, on his property.

A 1700 home fairly well preserved but showing the marks of its 164 years stands on the McCord farm. The students are restoring it, doing all the work themselves under direction of Professor Marshall Fishwick. They found no evidence of decay or termites in the handsomely carved cedar beams or solid brick brick walls.

Use Cream, Avoid Sunlight
If You're Cold-Sore Victim

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

"I am plagued with cold sores on my nostrils and seem to get them once a month," a correspondent complains. "I have tried all sorts of remedies but nothing seems to help. Any suggestions?"

This problem of recurring cold sores is by no means unusual around the nostrils or the lips. Although this troublesome condition is most likely to develop when someone has an infection like pneumonia or is run down physically, some people in apparently excellent health have recurring trouble without any apparent reason.

THE MEDICAL NAME for a cold sore is herpes simplex. The cause is a virus. This virus is a living organism which also can produce a reaction in susceptible animals, especially rabbits.

It is difficult to know why herpes behaves as it does. One would expect that it would be contracted only from another person who harbors the virus. Actually it does not seem to be highly contagious but comes mostly when the resistance is weakened by any one of several causes: artificial fever treatments, certain vaccinations and overexposure to the sun. One likely explanation is that the virus remains in the tissues and becomes active whenever the resistance to it is lowered.

RECOVERY USUALLY occurs without any particular treatment in a few days. Susceptible people who have cold sores one night after another, however, are likely to be much annoyed by the minor symptoms and by the slight disfigurement. One attack predisposes to the recurrence of a cold sore in the same area.

The treatment of an ordinary cold sore is simple. During the blister stage a simple drying application, such as spirits of camphor or calamine lotion, is usually helpful. When the blister has broken and a crust has formed, cold cream may help to soften the crusts. Some susceptible people receive benefits from X-ray treatment and not only does the herpes which is present go away rapidly.

Put Your Family First,
But Also Remember Others

It is right for a woman to put her family first. But that doesn't mean she should excuse herself from the obligation of doing things for others. Certainly any woman is happier who spreads her love out to cover friends and neighbors and those in trouble than is the woman whose love never reaches outside her own small family circle.

And her family is better off, too. For the woman who is always ready to do for others brings a warmth and pride and happiness to her own family that the woman whose love is more selfish is unable to give.

There are generous-hearted women who are so conscious of the needs of others that each person who knows them remembers them for some small kindness.

And these are the truly happy women—for in doing for others they forget their own hurts and frustrations.

IN GIVING YOU RECEIVE
In their concern for others there is no time for them to be overly concerned about themselves.

In giving something of themselves to all whose lives touch theirs—their own lives as much as they enrich the lives of others—that is why it is a great mistake for a woman to tell herself that she is so busy with her own family she hasn't time to do as much as she should do for other people.

When a woman does that she is narrowing her own life and actually making a smaller contribution to her own family.

In most homes it is the wife and mother who is responsible either for the fan's reaching out to others or becoming a selfish little unit.

Put your family first, but make room in your life for others, too.

It Will Be Politics as Usual, Or Worse, in '56 Campaign

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Despite a lot of talk of "clean campaigns," politics is right back where it usually is—on the roughhouse road. And the 1956 presidential campaign has already opened—a year early—without avowed candidates for either major party.

These facts were made evident on the first day that Paul M. Butler of Indiana, new Democratic National Committee chairman, stuck his feet under the desk he'll take over officially next Jan. 1.

He called a press conference to let everybody know he was around. He began it by saying to one reporter that things would be more interesting if "Lily Christine" were there. He seemed to miss her, but would get along without her. This was significant.

Lily Christine—for the benefit of those who don't get around—is "The Cat Girl," a strip-tease artist. She provided relaxation for some of the delegates at a recent Democratic meeting.

This little touch of free publicity should be more quite a lot to Lily Christine.

CHAIRMAN BUTLER SAID Later on that the Democrats had lost their star attraction for the $100-a-plate dinners that had finally put them $21,000 in the black. The reference here was to Gov. Adlai Stevenson, Democratic standard bearer in 1952 and still head of the party according to Mr. Butler.

Governor Stevenson has now expressed a desire to retire from the political spotlight for a time and practice law to raise a little money for his own use, instead of raising it for the Democratic cause.

Butler indicated that he had other star attractions, though he didn't name them. Maybe Lily Christine.

The chairman said he wasn't going to be so much interested in these $100-a-head affairs. What he was after was more $1, $5 and $10 contributions from more little people. This revives an idea that Bradley Ruml had in 1952. Brought forward late in the campaign, it didn't work too well.

BUTLER'S FIRST OFFICIAL STATEMENT indicated he would have a "gloves off" approach in dealing with President Eisenhower.

His statement was not clothed in polite language. It gave President Eisenhower the "old Harry" for alleged failures to unite the Republican Party and the country. It indicated that the Democratic chairman would continue to expose the alleged failures of the President—without making any personal attacks upon him.

Well, that served to raise the curtain on the 1956 campaign, along with Sen. Joe McCarthy's repudiation of his prior support for President Eisenhower. Neither event indicates that the New Year will be filled with either sweetness or light. It will be politics as usual, or worse.

LAST SEPTEMBER REPUBLICAN National Committee Chairman Leonard Hall and Democratic National Committee Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell signed a code in which they pledged a decent, honest and fair campaign.

The next day Chairman Mitchell broke out in a joint television debate with Chairman Hall, in which the Democratic chieftain accused Vice President Richard M. Nixon of "an outright lie" in saying that the Republican administration had "kicked the Communists out of government by the thousands."

Chairman Hall immediately rushed to the defense of Mr. Nixon, demanded that Mitchell apologize or else publicly repudiate his fair play pledge.

Nixon never retracted his statement. Butler never apologized.

That was the end of the noble intention to wage a decent campaign. And that's about as long as you can expect politics to stay cleaned up, these $100-a-head affairs. What he

Beets, Onions, Oranges Make A Colorful, Tempting Salad

Canned beets, richly hued and perfect in shape, make appetizing salads. Janet Lawer, of Jacksonville, Fla., is a home economist recently married to a Navy pilot. She showed us how to make this beet pinwheel salad, saying it is popular with her husband and his Navy friends.

Beet Pinwheel Salad
(Makes 4 servings)

One-third cup sugar, 1 teaspoon paprika, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 teaspoon celery seed, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup vinegar, 1 cup salad oil, 1 No. 303 can sliced beets, drained, salt and pepper, a cup buttered crumbs.

Melt butter or margarine over low heat. Add onion and saute until tender. Add flour and blend. Gradually add milk and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add mustard, horseradish, Worcestershire sauce, tuna and 1 teaspoon salt; mix well. Arrange half of beets in bottom of lightly greased 11-quart casserole. Top with tuna mixture. Arrange remaining beets on top. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and crumbs. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 25 minutes.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Cold sliced leftover turkey, creamed potatoes, beet pinwheel salad, dressing, corn muffins, butter or margarine, chocolate tarts (ready-to-mix filling), coffee, tea, milk.

Ohio State University investigators have found that African violets grown under 18-hours-a-day fluorescent light produce more flowers and produce them sooner than those grown in natural light.

Mother Will Lose Farm Unless Son Returns In Week

DANVILLE, Ill. (AP)—A missing accountant under prison sentence for falsifying tax returns has a week to surrender or his mother will lose her 120-acre farm. Federal Judge Casper Platt signed an order Monday directing Spencer Lorton's bondsmen to produce Lorton or face forfeiture of Lorton's $20,000 bond.

The bondsmen, Morris Brown of Springfield, and Nathan Strum of Danville, said "forfeiture of the bond would cost Lorton's mother, Mrs. Meta Lorton of Cowden, Ill., her farm. She put it up as security for her son's release pending his appeal from a three-year prison sentence.

The appeal has been denied.

Lorton, of Springfield, Ill., was last seen Dec. 7 at a hotel in Banff, Alberta, Canada, with an unidentified woman and a dog. Judge Platt has granted several continuances pending efforts to locate Lorton.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The Eisenhower administration and the North Atlantic Council seem to be taking a different view of the prospects for avoiding war.

At its Paris meeting last week the Council took the position that there was no indication of any lessening of danger to the Western world.

The United States, on the other hand, has just announced that the military "leveling off" undertaken last year, and temporarily held up during the Indochina crisis last spring, would go even farther than originally planned.

It can be deduced, Secretary Wilson says, because the administration believes the threat of global war has decreased, and American needs can be just as well met by a smaller armed force with greater flexibility.

One idea for providing this flexibility is to keep the "fireman" type of unit in central locations where they can be dispatched anywhere quickly. For this reason the 1st Marines, now on static defense duty in Korea, will be brought home and replaced by an Army division from Japan. The Air Force also is being increased to spread its striking power.

One of the worrisome questions about this policy has always been whether the administration, in considering military needs, is taking a too hopeful view of the world situation, and how much it is influenced by another of its general policies, which is to reduce expenditures and eventually balance the budget.

Another is whether the saving, put by Wilson at several hundred million dollars, will be offset by a weakening of the "position of strength" from which American diplomats have to conduct their campaign to avoid war.

Wilson indicated the money was not a prime consideration in the President's approval of the "new look" in the military, but that Secretary Dulles was the one who would have to comment on the diplomatic aspects.

Dulles had hardly had time to get his feet on the ground after his return from Paris where it is assumed he approved the NATO estimate of the world situation. Last year he seemed to approve of the "new look" and attempted to describe it as designed to put the nation in position for "massive retaliation" against aggression to the degree, and at times and places, of its own choosing.

There is quite a section of congressional opinion which is not satisfied with the administration's evaluation, and it is likely to make itself heard when Congress reconvenes. Coming at a time when repeated warnings are being received from the Far East that Red China means literally her threat to invade Formosa, which the United States is pledged to defend, the controversy promises to be a hot one.

150 Employees And Guests At Bindery Party

The Hertberg-New Method Inc. held its first annual Christmas party at the Dunlap Hotel last Friday.

The turkey dinner was enjoyed by 150 employees and their guests at a festive festive meal.

The committee, headed by Wilma Curtis, spared no effort in making the party a huge success.

The master of Ceremonies was Elmer Sore who read congratulatory messages from those who were unable to be present. The invocation was given by Edward Wheeler. Throughout the evening Lloyd Berber played popular musical selections fitting the holiday mood. Ruth Rexroat led the community singing.

A company talent show featured the entertainment with trombone solos by Donna Wright and vocal selections by Rosslyn Masley whose encore "You Can't Get a Man With a Gun" hit the car. The band, the entire group hilariously with laughter.

Lawrence Hertberg, the company's president, presented tricks of magic which brought forth much spontaneous mirth.

The party concluded with Irma Garas, a most provocative Santa Claus, passing out the gift exchangeably assisted by the committee members, together with many handsome door prizes.

Like the lovely lighted Christmas candles one and all felt that glow of goodwill and kinship in Company party participation which develops happiness in its twin.

German Sentenced For Charming Secrets Of U. S.

By TOM REEDY

BERLIN (AP)—A beautiful German brunette was sentenced to five years in prison today after she pleaded guilty to seducing secrets out of two U.S. intelligence officers for Russian pay.

The names of the two Americans were not introduced in court. U.S. officials said previously the black-eyed charmer — Iringard Margarethe Schmidt — was the mistress of an Air Force intelligence colonel and had occasional dates with a civilian intelligence chief.

The prosecution described her as one of the most dangerous spies encountered here since World War II.

The 24-year-old former East zone student burst into tears as U.S. High Commissioner Judge Ambrose Fuller pronounced sentence. Although she had said nothing in her own defense during the trial, she sobbed bitterly.

"I can't take it. It's too much," the girl pleaded guilty to transmitting to the Russians for money details of the order of battle for Allied defense of West Berlin. She also admitted a second charge of approaching a German national in U.S. intelligence to get more information.

She pleaded innocent to a third charge of attempting to obtain details of the entire network of American agents in West Berlin. This accusation was dismissed on a prosecution motion.

Miss Schmidt appeared in court in a blue wool suit that, even unpressed, bore the stamp of high quality. Her windblown bob was neatly dressed and she was smartly shod in black American-type shoes and Army sales store nylons.

She had been under arrest since Dec. 1, when American agents caught her as she was about to deliver secret material to her Russian boss in East Berlin.

American officials said one of her American admirers had given her a job in his office and there she had been able to lay her hands on top U.S. secrets.

COLLINSVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Paul Loyet, 52, and Ellard Durell, about 60, both of Collinsville, were struck and killed by a car here Monday while examining another auto parked at the curbing.

Kohlhas said the men were struck by a car driven by Donald P. Willett, 21-year-old Collinsville welder, who told officers he didn't see the men.

Willett was released on $2,500 bond pending an inquest.

'Nicest Christmas Gift'—

Detective Solves His Most Important Case

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Detective Carl Parker has solved his most important case — one that gave his wife the "nicest Christmas present anybody ever had."

He has brought Mrs. Doris Jean Parker together with a sister she never had seen, and word of a family she never knew.

The 21-year-old woman and her sister Miss Nancy Carol Peek, 19, met for the first time last week at the Parker home here.

Until then, the detective's wife didn't even know her maiden name.

Her earliest memory had been of her foster mother Mrs. Beulah Stahl, who took her from a children's home as an infant.

Doris Jean lived with Mrs. Stahl in Bowling Green, Ky., until she was 12, but when Mrs. Stahl and her husband separated, the girl was placed in another orphanage.

The years passed, with Doris Jean moving on to a third orphanage, where she remained until she married at 16. When that marriage ended in divorce, Doris Jean came here to live with Mrs. Stahl.

Last year she met Parker and married him.

On his wife's 21st birthday, the detective tackled the problem, using his experience as a policeman assigned to the crime prevention bureau, which locates missing persons.

Parker learned his wife had been placed in the first orphanage under the wrong last name. Then through the State Board of Health, he found a record of her birth in Marion, Ky., and the name of the attending physician.

Last Thursday, the detective located Nancy in Marion. He telephoned her and arranged for her to come to Louisville the next day.

"I didn't believe it till she came," said Mrs. Parker. "Even when Carl walked in with her I didn't know what to think."

Nancy's story was much the same as her sister's.

She lived with her mother Mrs. Una Peek several years and then with her sister Mrs. Gladys Sisco in Marion, and finally with another couple.

Nancy says there are three brothers in the family but she hasn't seen them in years. One is living with their mother in St. Louis; another is in Liberty, Ky.; and the third is a soldier at Ft. Campbell, Ky.

As for Doris Jean and Nancy, they plan to spend the holidays together getting acquainted.

"I've got a lot of catching up to do," said Doris Jean.

After that?

"Well, if we've found one, we should be able to find them all," said Parker.

ROODHOUSE

ROODHOUSE—Mrs. Robert Van Tuyle, who resides north of Roodhouse near Manchester, entertained members of her sewing club, an organization of former years, at her home Friday afternoon. Of the group attending were: Mesdames W. Clyde Hopkins, J. Lee Hopkins, W. J. Allen, Floyd Martin, W. L. Worcester, Guy Wolfe, J. M. Mrs. Van Tuyle entertained her guests with a display of her collection of linens, china, and also embroidery work and crochets made by herself for her children and grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Lee Hopkins and son, Frank Hopkins, entertained with a supper at their home west of town Friday evening. The guests included the personnel of the Hopkins Jewelry Store and guests as follows: the host and hostess, Frank Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Hopkins, Miss Mabel Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Taylor and daughter Gail Marie, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ryder, city, and Miss Abbie Lakin, White Hall. A gift exchange followed during the social hour.

The Past Matrons of Roodhouse Chapter, No. 571, O. E. S., met at the Towne House Cafe Friday night for their annual turkey dinner. The remainder of the evening was spent at the home of Mrs. Walter Ricks. Assisting hostesses for the evening were: Mesdames Bob Cooley, Lyman Prabue, Irene Foley, Harvey Hull. Instead of a gift exchange, the members each brought something for a basket to be sent out to some less fortunate family in the community.

Mrs. Madalyn Bartlett, president of the club, presided over the business and it was voted to buy a new alter cloth for the chapter room.

Mesdames Eva Murray and Evelyn Andras, past matrons from Manchester were guests.

Roodhouse Chapter DeMolay for Boys met Thursday night in the Masonic hall for a chili supper served by the Mathers Circle. Following the supper, Bob Schier, White Hall, became a member of the order during initiatory ceremonies held in the hall. Master counselor of the organization is Larry Kessler, White Hall, who was in charge of the initiation.

It was decided to hold a Christmas party for DeMolays and Rainbows Wednesday evening in the local I. O. O. F. hall.

The employees of Coats Five and Ten-cent Store and their families met at the home of the owners, Mr. and Mrs. C. Clement Coats Thursday evening where a buffet supper was served with a gift exchange following.

Attending were: the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Todd, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse V. Hawk, Jr., and family, Mrs. Bertha Strommatt and son, Lyndal Strommatt.

The regular meeting of the Roodhouse Community Parent Teacher Association will be held Monday evening at 7:30 with Virginia Broche, presenting the two fifth and two sixth grades in a Christmas program. Readings will also be given.

Mr. and Mrs. Erva L. (Mike) Gibbins quietly observed their 35th wedding anniversary, Saturday, Dec. 18.

They were married at Carrollton by the Rev. W. E. Pool and are the parents of four children, Dale and Irene Wife of Allen Barnett, of Roodhouse, Darrell of Arlington, Calif., and Gary at home. They also have two grandchildren.

A porch light drive will be conducted between the hours of 8 and 9 p. m. Monday evening, to collect toys for the underprivileged children. The drive is sponsored by the Rainbow girls and they will be assisted by the local Jaycees in the collection.

Tuesday, Dec. 21, the young people of the Christian church will present a Christ-play entitled "White Christmas" at 7:30 p. m. On Christmas Eve the regular Christmas program will include all departments of the Bible school. The children will receive a treat.

The annual community Christmas treat made possible by local business firms, organizations and individuals will be given to each boy and girl who visits Santa Claus at his house in the city park Friday afternoon. Santa Claus will arrive in Roodhouse about 2 o'clock and after a short parade around the business district will go to his house where he will meet and talk with his little friends who come to visit him. Every boy and girl in the Roodhouse area is invited to visit Santa and receive a treat.

DON'T WORRY
TUCSON, ARIZ. (AP)—If you are over 45 you have osteo arthritis but don't be alarmed.

Dr. Edward F. Hartung of New York University told a medical meeting here that osteo arthritis "is only an aging process and won't put people in wheel chairs."

"This form of arthritis," he said, "is caused by the wearing out of joint structures. Proper relief of stress and strain from such things as excess weight and poor posture will relieve it."

The Mayflower averaged about 2 1/2 knots on her first voyage across the Atlantic.

RIGHT-TO-WORK—Black areas on this map show the 17 states where the 1947 National Labor Relations Act has been amended to require employers to bargain with unions. These laws outlaw labor contract provisions that workers must become union members. President Eisenhower told a press conference that Secretary Mitchell speaks for himself and not the Administration.

What Are Their Views?

New, Demo Controlled, Congress Meets Jan. 5

Editor's Note—A new Congress controlled by Democrats, meets Jan. 5. The Associated Press asked the members in advance for their views on various issues, and 128 of the 531 replied.

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Incoming members of Congress show some inclination to reduce individual income taxes by raising personal exemptions — and stop right there with tax cuts.

A majority of senators and House members taking a definite stand in an Associated Press poll favors higher personal exemptions. But the margin is less than 3 to 2 among the 128 members replying. And even should the 84th Congress decide to ease up on taxes on individuals, it may wait until 1956. Among lawmakers responding to the questionnaire, there is heavy support for President Eisenhower's bid to postpone again a reduction in the corporation income tax now set automatically for April 1. There is somewhat less enthusiastic backing for his request to put off a cut in excise sales taxes scheduled for the same date, but enough to indicate Congress may go along on a bipartisan basis.

The picture on both corporate and excise taxes could change, since many lawmakers still aren't committing themselves on them. Congressional opinion at this point appears to be weighted against any major changes in the massive tax revision law passed last summer and against amending or repealing a controversial cut in the tax on dividends. Members are 53 - 41 against tampering with the revision law and nearly two to one against changing the dividend tax.

The poll produced replies from 128 of the 531 members of Congress, from 41 of the 48 states.

The administration now expects to run nearly five billion dollars in the red during the present fiscal year. It figures that government spending will exceed income by around three billions in the next fiscal year starting July 1.

Should Congress let excise and corporate income taxes drop as provided under present law, next year's deficit would go up by some three billions more. The excise taxes apply to such big sellers as gasoline, liquor, cigarettes and cars.

Illinois To Buck $390 Million Suit To Halt Toll Roads

CHICAGO (AP)—The State of Illinois intends to buck a federal suit today which seeks to stop a proposed $390 million dollar toll road system. Thirty property owners in Cook, Lake and DuPage counties sued Friday in federal court to contest the constitutionality of the 1953 legislative act which created the Illinois State Toll Highway Commission.

The landholders want to enjoin the commission from placing on sale the bonds needed to finance the 191 miles of toll roads.

But Werner W. Schroeder, special assistant attorney general, said he will appear before Judge J. Sam Perry in U. S. District Court asking dismissal of the suit.

He said he will contend the federal court lacks jurisdiction, the state supreme court has upheld the act's constitutionality and the property owners failed to get state permission to sue it.

4,000 Acres In State To Be Sold At Auction By U.S.

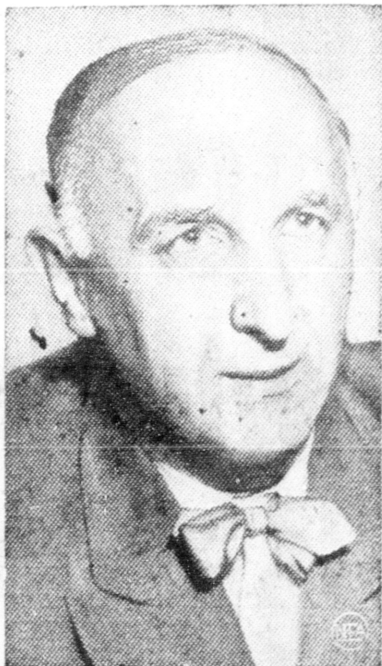

CHICAGO (AP)—The government has called a public auction for Jan. 25 for more than 4,000 acres of farm land on the site of former Camp Ellis near Table Grove, Ill.

The auction will be held at Lewistown, Ill.

The General Services Administration announced in Washington last June that about 7,000 acres of the total of 17,000 acres bought for the Camp Ellis site during World War II would be sold back to its original owners at present-day market prices or would be opened to competitive bidding.

Earl H. Lund, deputy regional ISA director in Chicago, said owners of the 38 tracts now up for auction all had been given a chance to rebuy but had not. He added that all these previous owners would be eligible to bid at the auction and buy back their land.

The government conveyance of the land will be by "quitclaim" deed. This is a type of deed which does not clear up any prior claims on the property, as is done by a warranty deed.

MENTIONED—Dr. Otto Suhr is expected to be named mayor of West Berlin, Germany, by the city assembly. At present, Suhr is city assembly speaker.

SMOKING SAFETY

VICTORIA—A man who likes to smoke in bed says he has figured out a way to do it without causing a fire hazard.

J. Henry Michaud says his invention is an aluminum tube with holes in the sides which screws into a cigarette holder. No ash can escape, he says. He got the idea recently in a hospital, where nurses were "always raising heck with me for smoking in bed," he explains.

Although snakes cannot strike as effectively when they are in water, their bites are almost as poisonous under water as on land.

FROM ITALY—MARBLE IN THE SKY

Steel cable saw cuts through four inches of marble in about an hour.

Large section of marble on the ground has been detached from mountain.

SINCE THE DAYS of the Roman Empire—when Julius Caesar carved the first marble from Italy's Carrara mountains to build Rome—men have been digging this beautiful stone and sending it throughout the world. Prized for centuries, Carrara marble has been used by Rodin, Michelangelo and the builders of the Colosseum, Tower of Pisa, Roman Forum and the Paris Opera. More is being cut for the restoration of the war-damaged Abbey of Montecassino, near Naples. Most rare and valuable of the marble is "statuary," which is pure white and costs five hundred dollars a cubic yard. The quarries are reached by winding roads. Tandem trucks finally carry the marble blocks to the yard, where they are sawed up.

STRIKING EVIDENCE of rebuilding in West Berlin is this factory in Siemensstadt.

IN A CEREMONY dating back to the early missionaries, these children are singing carols and carrying the scene of the nativity from door to door in Tucson, Ariz. Pre-Christmas ceremony, called the "Posada," seeks to find a resting place for infant Jesus.

Morgan Farmers Hear Plea For Preservation Of American Liberties

The American Heritage—a glorious past, a responsible present and a hopeful future—was the subject of Rev. Kenneth Hoce of Rock Island when he addressed the annual meetings of the Morgan County Farm Bureau and the Supply company held at Annie Merner chapel, MacMurray College, Tuesday.

The vigorous speaker addressed the more than 500 members of Morgan County farm families who participated in the 37th annual meeting of the Farm Bureau and the 28th annual meeting of the Service company.

"Liberty has been the theme and watchword of this country," Hoce declared. He is the pastor of a large Christian church in Rock Island and a delegate to U.N. "The history of the United States is really the world's best story. We're really living in a wonderful and true land. That is now! Can we keep it?" "Times have stepped up. The front porches and parlors are gone. We have undreamed-of facilities in our houses, but perhaps the day is approaching when the house, complete with everything, will not be the home in the true sense of the word as was the hovel of the freedom-loving Pilgrims, surrounded by darkness, hunger and Indians."

Research Forum 24 At Winchester Hears Travel Tips

WINCHESTER — Mr. and Mrs. Paul Vannier of Bluffs entertained the members of Research Forum No. 24 at a dinner meeting Monday evening at their home.

During the business meeting, L. Kimmel was elected president, Harvey Vortman, vice president, and Otto E. Henry secretary-treasurer for the coming year.

Paul Vannier presented the paper for the evening entitled "Travel Tips," which told of the many agencies which offer helpful information including road maps, road information, names of best hotels and motels, and even completely planned tours, for those planning on traveling.

Vannier gave an interesting account of a trip which he took last fall with a group of newspapermen, under the supervision of the U. S. Navy, to observe NATO fleet maneuvers, and of the individual sight seeing trips which many of the men took before returning to the United States.

He described particularly his trip through England and France. In the discussion following the reading of the paper several items of interest, including London newspapers, were shown to the group.

C. Of C. Opposes Phone Company's Rate Petition

The Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce has thrown its weight against any increase in telephone rates before dial automatic conversion, and considers the schedule of automatic rates sought by the Illinois Telephone Co. as "excessive."

The board of directors reached its decision on the telephone rate question at a recent session. The telephone company now has a petition before the Illinois Commerce Commission asking higher rates both before and after the dial system is placed in service.

The following letter has been addressed to the Commerce Commission as a result of the Chamber of Commerce board's action:

Chairman, Illinois Commerce Commission, Centennial Building, Springfield, Illinois.

Dear Sir:

I have been instructed by the Board of Directors of this organization to state the position of this organization on the petition by the Illinois Telephone Company for increased telephone rates.

First, we feel that an increase in rates before the dial automatic conversion is completed is unjustified. Secondly, we feel that the proposed automatic rates, as shown in the petition by the Illinois Telephone Company, are excessive. This conclusion was reached when the proposed automatic rates were compared to rates charged by other telephone companies in other Illinois cities. We are attaching the results of the survey taken for this comparison. Of the cities shown, all have dial automatic service except Beloit, Preepot, and Monmouth.

Years very respectfully, John G. Prickett, Secretary-Manager, Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce.

VFW Auxiliary To Package Treats For 800 Veterans

Members of the VFW Auxiliary are urged to give a few hours of their time Wednesday evening to help pack Christmas treat packages for the more than 800 veterans at the Jacksonville State hospital. If a good number of Auxiliary members in the local post will respond to this request the work can be finished within a two hour period.

The packing of the hundreds of sacks containing a half-pound candy, fruit, cigarettes and nuts, will be done in the veterans commissary at the Jacksonville State hospital. The district chairman for the hospital is Louise Kelly, a member of the local Auxiliary. Anyone wishing information concerning helping with the packaging may phone Mrs. Kelly at 1652-Z.

The distribution will start at the same time the following evening, Thursday, Dec. 23.

New Junior High Is Considered; Advisory Group Makes Report

An advisory committee of 35 citizens in Jacksonville School District 117 has recommended to the Board of Education that two additional rooms be built at the South Jacksonville elementary school, and that no increase in the educational tax rate be proposed as a part of the school expansion project.

The probability of construction of a new junior high school is still under consideration. The superintendent of schools was asked to secure cost figures on several types of proposals for a junior high building.

The advisory committee organized into several groups for study of the school district's building needs. After considerable discussion the committee voted unanimously to accept the following reports:

1. Increase in Educational Tax Rate — Committee recommended that no increase be proposed as a part of this project.

2. Shops and Music Facilities for the Junior and Senior High Schools — Committee recommended that this project be postponed.

3. South Jacksonville School — Committee recommended that two additional rooms be built at once. It was agreed that the high school classroom situation is dependent upon what is done about the Davis Prince School.

In connection with the junior high problem, the Superintendent of Schools was asked to secure cost figures on the following:

1. One junior high school large enough to house grades 7-8-9. It would probably be impossible to finance such a building but the group believed that such information would be available.

2. One large junior high school to house grades 7 and 8. The architect is working on this problem.

3. One junior high school to house approximately 300 in grades 7 and 8. This building has been sketched and cost estimated at $475,000.

4. Conversion of Lincoln school to junior high school. This would require some changes within the building and the addition of a wing for shop, homemaking and music.

5. Building of a six-grade elementary school on the west side of district.

NOTE: The above items contain one, Number Two, not mentioned in the committee's report.

To Meet Jan. 17
The next meeting of the committee will be held on or before January 17 in order that the Board of Education may have the report.

Richard Allan Finds Film Life Strenuous; Mixes Study, Acting

Richard Allan has been working hard in Hollywood. He expects to work hard when he returns to what has been called "The City of Make Believe." But for the moment, actually a few days, the handsome young actor is having himself a genuine good time among homefolks and friends.

Before arriving in Jacksonville last Friday, Allan finished a chore out Hollywood way called "The Racer." He was "Pilar," an assistant driver, in a film story about automobile racing in Europe. Kirk Douglas starred in the story, with Bella Darvi adding the feminine charm.

When he returns to the film capital Allan expects to go to work on a production titled "Desperate Hours."

"This is a real Christmas present for me, being able to come back to Jacksonville," Allan said Monday during an interview. "It is time to be among my relatives and old friends again."

Under Seven Year Contract
Allan went to Hollywood in 1948. After he had appeared in a few films 20th Century Fox placed him under a seven year contract last May.

The former Jacksonville young man didn't have to switch from his true name to a stage name. He had a "natural" name, one that the studios didn't have to tamper with. He was Dick Allan in Hollywood, just the same as he was in Jacksonville a few years ago.

The dark, wavy haired actor, with a pair of blue eyes peering his six foot frame, really went to work when he reached Movietown. He has spent the past seven years in serious study of singing, dancing, and dramatics, along with his time before the camera.

His voice instructor is Minnie White, who tutored Kathryn Grayson to stardom.

Jaycees Leon Gierke and Henry Lindstrom, co-chairmen of the contest, stated that the judges, Miss Jo Milligan, president of the Pilot Club, Elbert Lair, building and trades instructor and Howard Sidman, head of the MacMurray College art department, found it very difficult to pick the seven prize winners from among the many beautiful displays.

Judging was done on the basis of artistic merit, originality, ingenuity and lighting techniques. The judges ask that the following entrants be given special mention:

Raymond Jett, 844 West Walnut; Howard Walls, 908 North Main; Lucille Slice, 803 North Main; Mrs. Harry Pierson, 643 North Sandy; Clyde Baptist, 703 Freedom; Mrs. J. O. Ryan, 808 North Diamond; Miss Jane Fay, 932 West Douglas; Mrs. Lois Walters, 812 West Douglas; Johnny and Peggy Warg, 1130 West Lafayette; James Cash, 1325 Mound; Joseph Wirth, 306 West square.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce Tuesday morning expressed its thanks "to the many entrants who have helped to make Jacksonville a more beautiful city at this Christmas time. Many beautiful home decorations not entered in the contest were noticed by the judges and we urge that these people also send in entry blanks next season."

"The Jaycees also thank the Illinois Power Co. for their cash donation of $100 for prizes. Anyone interested in obtaining a pamphlet on 'Yuletide Tips for Home Decorating' may do so by stopping at the Illinois Power Co. office on the Mound; Joseph Wirth, 306 West square."

Garrison Speaks To Morgan Welfare Board

"The goal of the Special Services program in the public schools is to provide the best program possible with the least possible expenditure," Ivan Garrison, director of the program in school district 117, told members of the child welfare advisory board of Morgan county at its regular monthly meeting at the Dunlap hotel, Monday noon. Mr. Garrison spoke of the services as they advance the security for youth the theme of the year's programs.

"In order to accomplish our purpose, we make use of every possible community resource," Mr. Garrison continued.

"For instance, we could not carry on our health program, which is a very ambitious one for a community of this size, if it were not for the fine cooperation we receive from all the health agencies operating in Jacksonville and Morgan County."

The speaker pointed out that the ideal and complete program would start with the pre-school child in order to reach him before he acquires an accumulation of behavior problems. He reported that the percentage of children in the upper grades with such problems has decreased as the program has been extended downward to include the lower grades.

The programs for speech correction, physically handicapped, educable mentally handicapped, remedial reading and counseling by visiting counselors were described in some detail.

"Special services are growing all over the country," he concluded. "Thirty-two of the 48 states now have legislation providing for them. There are about 25,000 special teachers in the United States—we need more than 100,000."

"If those of us working in the field ask ourselves the question, 'What are our duties?' a minimal program results, but if the question we try to answer in our own minds is 'What can we do to meet the needs of this child?' we have a maximal program."

Fred Bailey, vice chairman, presided at the meeting in the absence of Clair Malcolmson, chairman, and Mrs. Norma Armstrong of the Child Welfare office introduced the speaker.

Announcement was made of the appointment of a nominating committee composed of Mrs. Walter Bellatti, chairman, Dr. Isabel Stewart, and Dr. John R. Brazelton.

Air Force serving as night engineer aboard a C124 plane and is stationed at the Dover Air Force Base.

Perfume That Clings

Q.—Dear Penny: I adore perfume, but for some reason or other its fragrance just does not last on me. I have told several of my friends that I want a new perfume, but first I must find out about a lasting one—Mrs. A. W.

A.—A particularly good idea for women who claim that perfume does not "stay with them" is a Liquid Skin Sachet. It smooths on the skin very easily, and lingers longer because of its sachet base. It has a slower rate of diffusion and evaporation than any other type of fragrance and was originated by Houbigant. Try their Chantilly Liquid Skin Sachet. Only $1.85 plus tax at Long's Pharmacy.

The water capacity of the reservoir has been increased 87% and the potential water level capacity has been raised six feet. A warning has been issued to all users that the recent city water supply is still well below normal and water conservation practices should be rigidly maintained.

The People Who Want Only a Winner

'Overseas Chinese' Stay Loyal to Chiang—as Long as He Can Hold Reds

By EDWARD R. KENNEDY

HONG KONG —(NEA)—Two million of the 20,000,000 reasons for maintaining a non-Communist Chinese government can be found here. These are the so-called overseas Chinese, scattered from San Francisco to Freemantle, with a strong nucleus in Hong Kong.

They are merchants, businessmen, racketeers, laborers, servants and displaced persons who fled from Red China. Except on the U. S. west coast, the overseas Chinese are not usually accepted as nationals of the country in which they live and they desperately need a home government and passports for travel.

Politics is often not an issue with them. They are not Communists, nor are they devout lovers of Chiang Kai-shek. Some of the families for generations have roamed Asia, making a living as best they could. Some have made millions.

The struggle for the loyalty of these overseas Chinese has been going on for the past five years and indications are it will become more intense in the future. So far, the victory in this fight has gone to Chiang.

These people believe they are betting on the winner. As long as Chiang has the support of the West and his Formosa redoubt appears secure, they will go along with the Nationalists.

But should the last bastion of Free China fall or should the U. S. desert Chiang, the 20,000,000 homeless overseas Chinese can be expected to switch en masse to the Communist side.

Overnight they would become a

WHICH WAY? A member of the Hong Kong New Territory Police holds up crowd of refugees at Chinese mainland border. Their allegiance goes to those in power.

vast fifth column heavily concentrated in every critical Asian country, Japan, the Philippines, Malaya, Burma, Thailand, Indonesia, New Zealand and Australia. This would not necessarily indicate great faith in the Red doctrine, but it would reflect their need for some kind of home government.

The vast majority of overseas Chinese in Hong Kong are refugees from Communist terrorism. More like them would pour across the border if the British government would permit it. The British simply had to close the door to their vastly over-populated colony.

Here just to escape the Reds—former wealthy men live as coolies. Ladies work as house maids. Heard everywhere are stories of families and friends caught behind the Iron Curtain, and of plans to get them out.

A girl will work for two years as a clerk or a prostitute to save enough money to buy freedom for a friend or relative. The current price to bribe a British-Chinese policeman is from $500 to $1500. Red offers of good jobs and education to youths willing to return are viewed with suspicion, as stories filter back that those who do accept are treated as prisoners. This deterrent to a return to the homeland keeps alive their hopes for Chiang Kai-shek.

The December meeting of Group 3 of the C. W. F. of Central Christian church was held Friday, Dec. 17, at the home of Mrs. Raymond Hardy, 501 N. Prairie with Mrs. Lawrence Hembrough and Mrs. Nina Long as assistant hostesses.

A potluck luncheon served at the noon hour and a gift exchange was held by 18 members attending.

Later the meeting was called to order by Mrs. Baurn and an opening prayer was given by Miss Minnie Green.

Mrs. Slaughter gave the devotional service, using as her topic the Christmas story which was an article written by Mr. Slaughter years ago, the title "What About Bethlehem?"

The leader asked for the minutes of the October meeting which were read by Mrs. Crabtree, they were approved as read, the November minutes were also read and approved.

Mrs. Baurn asked for a report on any illness in the group, and a motion was made by Mrs. Zahn that cards be sent the shut-ins from the group.

The study lesson was given by Mrs. Maxon, using a paper prepared by Mrs. Sullivan.

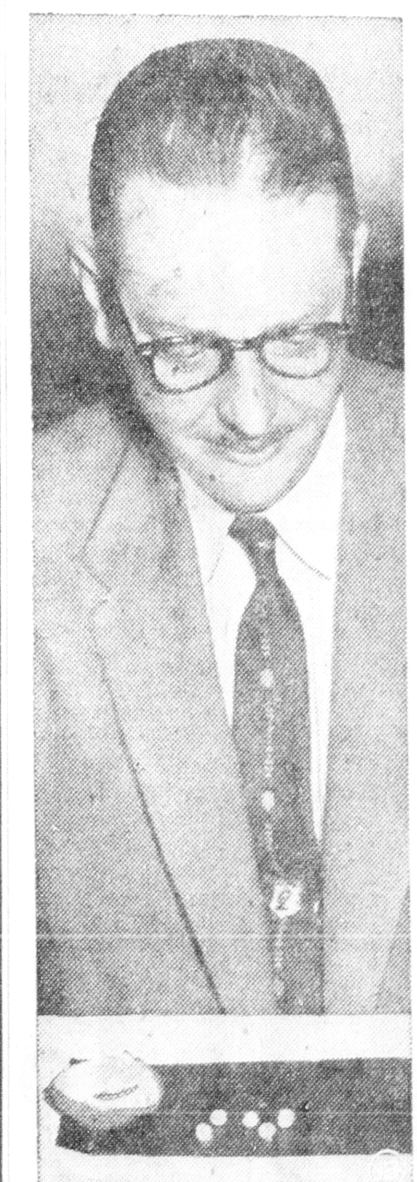

Meeting adjourned with the missionary benediction.

MULTIPLICATION

SWEETGRASS, Mont. (AP)—Amos Thompson, Helena, Mont., bought three head of swine at a Calgary, Alta., show, and dutifully listed them on the official forms to get the animals through customs.

Before he got across the Montana-Canadian border, one sow farrowed nine pigs in his truck.

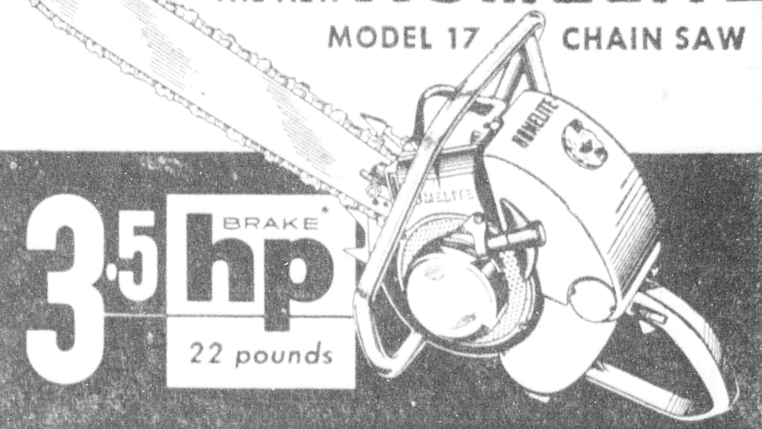

Thompson had to do some fast talking to explain why he had 12 animals instead of three, but the sympathetic officials waved him through customs.

NECKLACE A LA CARTE—William Ungemach, of Pittsburgh, Pa., inspects the "royal jewels" served to him on the half-shell in Olean, N. Y.—six pearls in one oyster. The unusual treasure trove has been appraised as of little worth in cash, as the pearls are not commercial quality, but Ungemach will use them as a valuable "conversation piece" (he's a salesman).

WINNING IS HOBBY

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (P) — When it comes to contests, Jesse H. Long, 28-year-old Tennessee Valley Authority employee, is the winningest man in these parts. Long makes a hobby of entering all types of contests and has won 129 prizes worth about $3,000 since 1948.

Roller skates, war bonds, bicycles, a television set, a trip to New York for two and even clothes for his wife were included.

Long doesn't have any special formula to offer for winning contests, but he does abide by a theory that "the more you enter, the more you win."

Fight The Wild River

by EDMUNDS CLAUSSEN
© 1954, W. Edmunds Clausen. Prior copyright, Standard Publications, Inc.

THE STORY: Because Riverboat Captain Crotch helped to prevent a rifle shipment destined for a Union Army outpost from falling into the hands of Confederate sympathizers, he has apparently lost business. His competitor Captain Jamison explained to Sugar Logan, also a sympathizer with the South, that Crotch was not as neutral as he should have been. So Logan and his partner have turned Crotch's barges over to Jamison.

XIV
CASTLE DOME was simply a jump-off place for prospectors exploring deeper in the desert. A trader's post had sprung up and Jamison was building storage sheds and using the place for overnight mooring and wood lot. The camp was destined to grow for no special reason other than Navigation using it as a general depot.

A grand sight burst upon Crotch as they rounded the bend and came down the straight channel to the landing. The Amador had her prow against the dark bank tied fore and aft to the trees. Crotch's ore-laden barges snubbed fast beside her. She had been met by the upriver San Diego at this point and both navigation boats had made fast for the night. There was no thought in Crotch's mind the two boats thus increased the odds against him; he was merely doubling his chances of dealing a major setback to Jamison.

Crotch rang off his engine, drifted against the bank a good 50 yards above the Amador. Safeties let go as his head of steam began escaping. The Coecoph Indians stood at the port rail fore and aft, ready to throw their lines, but shermen failed to appear to receive them; from this Crotch judged Jamison had already talked and no one in Castle Dome wanted to take sides in what was coming.

He dragged a sleek-barreled revolver from his holster beside the wheel, thrust it inside his waistband. Then he tossed Goss a wicked look. "Comin', Ben?" He felt glee kick up all the way from his belly.

Crotch reached the Amador first, but she lay in darkness. Her plank was withdrawn and Crotch had a sudden insight that Jamison was no longer aboard. He ran on to the San Diego whose deck was alive with miners bound upriver. Beside the pilot-house of this second boat he saw a pair of dark figures.

Crotch swore. "Now, Ben, we'll pull his teeth!"

AMOS JAMISON stood at her upper railing beside the San Diego's own skipper, Clyde Maddix. They waved mockingly as Crotch came in closer, and Crotch knew neither captain was disturbed to see him here.

The San Diego was a trim single-ended of 30 feet greater length than Crotch's ship, with a pointed prow and heavy hog-framing and a circular pilothouse perched cagelike atop her texas. She was virtually as luxurious as the Amador, but much older, and her hull and underwater timbers were rotten.

"You got a stiff passenger aboard for cargo?" Jamison called down, and his tone carried a taunting laugh. Obviously it was a joke about the San Diego that Jamison had refused to carry the pine box from La Paz, taking only the ore barges.

Crotch strove to remain cool in spite of the heat that swept through him. "Run out a plank, Jamison. You and I are going to talk freight rates!"

"How much did you offer to haul their stuff for? Whatever it is, you'll raise it five times if you're able to crowd us off the river."

Jamison took that, his passengers listening in with rapt attention. Along the river it was understood he owned half the stock in the Navigation combine, the balance divided between Maddix and Calhoun and three or four lesser hirelings.

By this time Crotch was thoroughly aroused and he lifted his voice hoarsely. "You try and move these barges downriver and I'll sink them!"

It brought only an insolent laugh from Jamison. "And you," he called back, "are going back to your New England fishing banks!"

CROTCH plunged knee-deep into the swirling water, his hand outstretched for Jamison's railing. Even if there was no gangplank there was still one sure way of climbing aboard a steamboat. Here, with his fingers on the railing, Maddix's voice caught him flatly.

"Gentlemen, no more fighting! A lady—may I present another passenger for Captain Crotch? A woman who troubled to come all the way from Port Isabel to claim your cargo, Captain!"

A swinging lantern on the lower deck brushed the reed-slim figure beside Maddix.

The girl was dressed in the newest San Francisco style, waup-thin waist and bustle behind. Beneath her saucy hat he recognized distinct Chinese features.

The gangplank came over the side and now Maddix was clucking softly to himself and helping her onto the board. She came gracefully down from there by herself, a well-turned beautiful creature who had shipped halfway around the world to join the man Crotch carried on his foredeck in a box.

Maddix said heartlessly, "Her trunk, Captain. You may have all of her from here on." He gave the trunk a shove with his boot and it came sliding down the plank to turn over against its side.

(To Be Continued)

Hunters Report Mange Threatens Fox Population

JERSEYVILLE — Jersey county fox hunters have been enjoying one of the best seasons for hunting and chasing Sly Reynard that they have had in several years. There has been enough dampness to aid the hounds, but not too much to make a bad running surface.

Local hunters have been staging chases in the rural areas several nights a week and there are a number of packs of excellent fox hounds being developed and built up in the locality.

Until the present season, foxes could be located with little difficulty, but this year for the first time in the past decade, the species has shown a decided downturn in numbers.

Harry Lyles of the Jerseyville vicinity who owns a number of good fox hounds reported that the decrease in population of the foxes is not due to the activities of trappers or those hunting with hounds. It is traceable to a malignant type of mange in many cases.

Lyles and other fox hunters report they have found the dead bodies of foxes in the fields during the past two years, the animals having succumbed to the mange.

Jersey county has been paying a bounty on every fox scalp brought in, and at the close of each trapping season it has been common for trappers to report with from 20 to 35 pelts at the office of the county clerk for the purpose. In spite of the activities of the trapper the numbers apparently showed little if any decline, until the advent of disease and its attendant toll.

Lyles reported that he has taken six foxes during the current season.

'Couldn't See Him Die'—Teenage Heroine Explains

MIAMI, Fla. (P.)—A 17-year-old girl who "couldn't see a human being die" was hailed as a heroine today.

Norma Florence Paulsen was credited with saving the life of Charles Pusey, 52, who had plunged into the murky waters of the Miami river today.

"I saw the bubbles coming up and he was lying face down in the water," Miss Paulsen said. "People were running around on the bridge but nobody was doing anything."

"I kicked my shoes off and dove in. The water was freezing cold and he kept fighting to keep his head under water."

"I had to swim and pull him with me and I didn't think I was going to make it—but I guess God helped me."

Detective Neal Coston said Pusey, an engineer for the Florida Paper & Light Co., first fought off the restraining hands of a friend before diving 30 feet from the Brickwell avenue bridge.

Coston said Pusey is suffering with a nervous condition and has been under a physician's care. He was being taken to a doctor's office at the time.

At this time Rev. G. Bischoff presented the true meaning of Christmas for those gathered who also joined in the singing of carols. There were 65 present.

A two-course luncheon was served from a table made attractive with a centerpiece of red carnations and white pompons. Hostesses were Miss Dena Musch, Mrs. Alfred Musch, Mrs. George H. Musch, Jr. and Miss Irene Musch who were assisted by Mrs. John Musch, Mrs. Melvin Musch, Mrs. George Musch, Miss Eleanor and Emilie Brasel.

Contest winners during the recreation were Mrs. George Bischoff and Mrs. Leland Schnake.

TOO BUSY

ROANOKE, Va. (P.)—The Roanoke World-News reports that a Roanoke county mail carrier admitted he had Christmas cards at his home addressed by his wife three years previously. For two years he put them in his inside coat pocket and forgot to mail them in the rush of handling Christmas cards.
